DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jang et al. (2004/0051134) in view of the following comments.

Re claim 1, Jang et al. disclose forming a base insulating film 130 on a substrate; and forming a high-k dielectric film (410) on the base insulating film, wherein the high-k dielectric film forming step includes: a first step of depositing, in the processing vessel, dielectric film under a first condition so as to the high-k allow a residence time the metal organic compound to extend to a first value (Page 3, paragraphs [0024] and [0025]; and a second step for further depositing the high-k dielectric film under a second condition so as to allow the residence time of the metal organic compound to extend to a second value (Page 3, paragraph [0025]).

Jang does not clearly disclose a specific residence time and that the second value of residence time is smaller than the first value.

Re claims 1-3 and 6-10, one of ordinary skill in the art would have been led to the recited residence time, pressure, flow rate and temperature through routine experimentation to achieve a desired rate of reaction and a desired dielectric thickness. In addition, the selection of residence time, pressure, flow rate and temperature, its obvious because it is a matter of determining optimum process conditions by routine experimentation with a limited number of species of result effective variables. These claims are prima facie obvious without showing that the claimed ranges achieve unexpected results relative to the prior art range. In re Woodruff, 16 USPQ2d 1935, 1937 (Fed. Cir. 1990). See also In re Huang, 40 USPQ2d 1685, 1688 (Fed. Cir. 1996)(claimed ranges of a result effective variable, which do not overlap the prior art ranges, are unpatentable unless they produce a new and unexpected result which is different in kind and not merely in degree from the results of the prior art). See also In re Boesch, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA) (discovery of optimum value of result effective variable in known process is ordinarily within skill or art) and In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1995) (selection of optimum ranges within prior art general conditions is obvious).

Note that the specification contains no disclosure of either the critical nature of the claimed residence time, pressure, flow rate and temperature or any unexpected results arising therefrom. Where patentability is said to be based upon particular chosen residence time, pressure, flow rate and temperature or upon another variable recited in a claim, the Applicant must show that the chosen residence time, pressure, flow rate and temperature are critical. In re Woodruff, 919 F.2d 1575, 1578, 16 USPQ2d 1934, 1936 (Fed. Cir. 1990).

Re claim 4, Jang et al. disclose wherein the high k dielectric film is a crystalline film, and in the first step, crystalline nuclei of the high k dielectric film are formed on the surface, the same conditions are treated in the same manner.

Re claim 5, Jang et al. Disclose wherein the metal organic compound is an organic compound containing Hf or Zr, and the high-k dielectric film is HfO₂ or ZrO₂ film (See table II).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
